GOSPEL REFLECTION

He went up on the mountain by himself to pray,” this line is easily missed in today’s Gospel about walking on water. Jesus spent a lot of time alone in prayer; especially, before he did something significant. Do you spend time in prayer before making major decisions?

On November 1, 1950, Pope Pius XII proclaimed the dogma of the Assumption: "Mary, the immaculate perpetually Virgin Mother of God, after the completion of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul into the glory of heaven." We live in an age in which there are immense forces that draw us into conformity. While these temptations we face are not entirely new, they are magnified by modern culture. One such negative element of contemporary culture is impurity. It's probably safe to say that every adult is, to some degree, wounded by impurity, whether giving in significantly to the many temptations toward impurity, or in being confronted by the various malignant influences impurity promotes in the world. Some feel they are forever damaged, as if they can no longer be counted as among the pure. This is not so, if only we should trust, if only we should try our best, if only we should love Him more. What has happened in the past is gone, borne away by the healing graces of the sacrament of Reconciliation. It is our Virgin Mother who will take us into her worthy hands, guide us toward her Son. There is simply no better model of human purity than our sweet Virgin Mother, who exists as Queen of Heaven, raised in heavenly glory above all the angels and saints. If we seek purity, it is the Virgin Mary whose intercession will, through the love of her Son, win for us the graces of which we are in such urgent need. She is indeed a channel of grace. The Virgin Mary, as the Mother of God, is a most perfect example of these virtues, for her Son is Truth, and she loves him and all that he is with maternal devotion.
